I. PURPOSE AND OVERVIEW

The Readington Township School District Social Studies Curriculum adheres to the belief that social studies education should foster, for all students, the ability to understand their world and to have an appreciation for the heritage of America with a high degree of literacy in civics, history, economics, and geography. Our curriculum leads students from an understanding of themselves and the world around them to the greater community of Readington and New Jersey, and eventually, to an understanding of American traditions, democratic values, and our global society.

II. RATIONALE SOCIAL STUDIES CURRICULUM IN FOURTH GRADE

The purpose of social studies education is to provide students the opportunity to acquire the knowledge, skills, and perspectives needed to become active, informed citizens and contributing members of local, state, national, and global communities in the digital age. Fourth grade students will build on the knowledge from third grade skills in social studies.

In fourth grade, students will learn to understand their world and to have an appreciation for the heritage of America. The focus is on the history and geography of New Jersey and understanding its unique features and characteristics. Students will learn the story of New Jersey from its foundation in colonial America to its cultures and economic significance today. Students will uncover the heritage of New Jersey by examining the influence immigrants and native peoples have had on our culture. Students will explore the government of New Jersey by examining its similarities to both our local and national governments. Students will engage in a celebration of the great figures and accomplishments unique to New Jersey. Finally, students will learn how the geography of the United States regions contributes to cultural diffusion, population, and economic interdependence.

III. GOALS

This document compiles and harmonizes the New Jersey Student Learning Standards and the 21st Century Life and Career Standards. Standards with bolded sections are shared between grade levels and the bold portion provides an area of focus.

IV. ASSESSMENT

Assessment is an essential element of effective instruction and is an ongoing process. Its primary purpose is to provide precise and meaningful data regarding student achievement of intended learning targets. In social studies, there are two facets of learning that are quantitatively and qualitatively assessed: content and skill. The data produced by formative and summative measurement of these aspects of learning is used to build on student successes and adjust instruction to meet individual needs.

Evidence of academic growth can be demonstrated in multiple ways throughout each unit. A variety of assessment formats have been developed, and current academic research is always at the forefront when assessing our students. Assessments include but are not limited to teacher-made tests and quizzes, observations, performance tasks, rubrics, written responses, presentations, and analysis of primary sources, charts, and diagrams. Accommodations and modifications are available for those students who demonstrate a need and can be located on the curriculum page of the district website.

VI. UNITS OF STUDY

Fourth Grade Unit 1 Map Skills/New Jersey Regions (Geography, People and the Environment) September/October 6 weeks
Desired Results
Established Goals: 6.1.4.B.1 Compare and contrast information that can be found on different types of maps and determine how the information may be useful. 6.1.4.B.2 Use physical and political maps to explain how the location and spatial relationship of places in New Jersey, the United States, and other areas, worldwide, have contributed to cultural diffusion and economic interdependence.

6.1.4.B.3 Explain how and when it is important to use digital geographic tools, political maps, and globes to measure distances and to determine time zones and locations using latitude longitude.

6.1.4.B.4 Describe how landforms, climate and weather, and availability of resources have impacted where and how people live and work in different regions of New Jersey and the United States.

6.1.4.B.7 Explain why some locations in New Jersey and the United States are more suited for settlement than others.

6.1.4.B.10 Identify major cities in New Jersey, as well as in the United States, and the world, and explain how geographic and demographic tools (e.g. maps, globes, data visualization) can be used to understand cultural differences.

6.1.4.C.14 Compare different regions of New Jersey to determine the role that geography, natural resources, climate, transportation, technology, and/or the labor force play in economic opportunities.

Understandings:

Students will understand that...

- Active citizens utilize maps to help them make sense of the world around them, including making decisions about settlement, work, and travel.
- Geography, cultural diffusion and economics impacted the lives of students in the early 1800's.

Essential Questions:

- How does the geography, natural resources and climate of a given area affect population, cultural diffusion and economic interdependence?
- How do natural, political, and human influences shape our construction of maps?
- How was the educational experience in the early 1800's similar and different from today's experience in the classroom?

Students will know/learn...

- How to utilize information gathered from digital geographic tools, maps, and globes to better understand how geography impacts population and economic interdependence.
- Spatial thinking and geographic tools can be used to describe and analyze the spatial patterns and organization of people, places, and environments on Earth.
- Places are jointly characterized by their physical and human properties.
- Regions form and change as a result of unique physical/ecological conditions, economies, and cultures.
- Patterns of settlement across Earth's surface differ markedly from region to region, place to place and time to time.
- Urban areas, worldwide, share common physical characteristics, but may also have cultural differences.
- Economic opportunities in New Jersey and other states are related to the availability of resources and technology.

Students will be able to...

- Find the absolute location of a given place.
- Measure distance between 2 locations using digital geographic tools, political maps and globes.
- Understand that there are different time zones in our country.
- Compare and contrast information on different types of maps.
- Locate New Jersey on a map and identify its natural resources and major cities.
- Identify the physical characteristics of New Jersey's four regions and understand how the regions were formed.
- Understand New Jersey's climate and identify natural resources in this state.
- Understand how geography, climate, and natural resources affect the economy and population in New Jersey.
- Compare and contrast the educational experience in modern day with reference to school life in the early 1800's.
- Compare different regions of New Jersey to determine the role that geography, natural resources, climate, transportation, technology, and/or the labor force have played in economic opportunities.

Learning Plan

Learning Activities:

- Complete Homework and Practice Workbook pages 1 (absolute location) & p. 2 (latitude and longitude)
- Read Harcourt Social Studies New Jersey Unit 1, Lessons 1-3 and answer review questions
- Reference Harcourt Social Studies New Jersey p. 114-122, R2-R15 (Reading different types of maps)
- Reference Harcourt Social Studies New Jersey p. 150-151 (time zones)
- Complete Harcourt Social Studies New Jersey Homework and Practice Workbook pages 32-33 (time zones)
- BrainPop: Latitude and Longitude, Map skills, Time Zones, Geography Themes
- Measuring distance using a map scale
- Map skills
- Map scale song
- Students will attend a field trip to Cold Brook School to experience life as a child in the early 1800's. Before attending this event, students will do the following: memorize the names of the 13 colonies and first 7 presidents, be able to reference the "five finger rule", understand the concept of "toeing the line" and recognize the names of classes (such as ornithography, arithmetic, ABC Darians). They will also have an understanding of boys' and girls' chores during that time period. A study guide is available to help teach this information.

Interdisciplinary Connections

Technology: 8.1.5.A.1 Select and use the appropriate digital tools and resources to accomplish a variety of tasks including solving problems. Activity: Measure distance between 2 locations using digital geographic tools, political maps, and globes.

Science 4-ESS2-2. Analyze and interpret data from maps to describe patterns of Earth's features. 6.1.4.B.1 Compare and contrast information that can be found on different types of maps and determine how the information may be useful. Activity: Students will learn how to read topographic maps and political maps. Students will be able to answer questions about each type of map and compare and contrast the information that is on each. Students will use each map to answer questions.

ELA: RI.4.7. Interpret information presented visually, orally, or quantitatively (e.g., in charts, graphs, diagrams, time lines, animations, or interactive elements on Web pages) and explain how the information contributes to an understanding of the text in which it appears. Activity: Interpret information presented in maps and explain how the information contributes to understanding the physical characteristics of New Jersey's four regions and understand how the regions were formed.

21st Century Skills

Career Ready Practice: CRP5. Consider the environmental, social and economic impacts of decisions.

Activity: Discuss how studying maps can help determine the environmental, social, and economic impacts of decisions.

9.2 Career Awareness, Exploration, and Preparation: 9.2.4.A.3 Investigate both traditional and nontraditional careers and relate information to personal likes and dislikes. Activity: Discuss both traditional and nontraditional careers related to interpreting maps, or those involving geography, people and the environment.

Assessment EvidenceFormative:

- Review Questions for Harcourt Social Studies New Jersey Unit 1, Lessons 1-3
- Teacher created quizzes

Benchmark:

Fourth Grade Unit 2 Key Historical Events in New Jersey (History, Culture and Perspectives) October-December 8 weeks

Desired Results

Established Goals:

6.1.4.D.5 Relate key historical documents (i.e., the Mayflower Compact, the Declaration of Independence, the United States Constitution, and the Bill of Rights) to present day government and citizenship.

6.1.4.D.7 Explain the role Governor William Livingston played in the development of New Jersey government.

6.1.4.D.1 Determine the impact of European colonization on Native American populations, including the Lenni Lenape of New Jersey.

6.1.4.D.4 Explain how key events led to the creation of the United States and the state of New Jersey.

6.1.4.D.8 Determine the significance of New Jersey's role in the American Revolution.

NJSLS.RI.4.1 Refer to details and examples in a text and make relevant connections when explaining what the text says explicitly and when drawing inferences from the text. NJSLS.RI.4.2 Determine the main idea of a text and explain how it is supported by key details; summarize the text.

NJSLS.RI.4.3 Explain events, procedures, ideas, or concepts in a historical, scientific, or technical text, including what happened and why, based on specific information in the text.

NJSLS.RI.4.4 Determine the meaning of general academic and domain-specific words or phrases in a text relevant to a grade 4 topic or subject area.

NJSLS.RI.4.5 Describe the overall structure (e.g., chronology, comparison, cause/effect, problem/solution) of events, ideas, concepts, or information in a text or part of a text.

NJSLS.RI.4.6 Compare and contrast a firsthand and secondhand account of the same event or topic; describe the differences in focus and the information provided.

NJSLS.RI.4.7 Interpret information presented visually, orally, or quantitatively (e.g., in charts, graphs, diagrams, time lines, animations, or interactive elements on Web pages) and explain how the information contributes to an understanding of the text in which it appears.

NJSLS.RI.4.8 Explain how an author uses reasons and evidence to support particular points in a text.

NJSLS.RI.4.9 Integrate and reflect on (e.g. practical knowledge, historical/cultural context, and background knowledge) information from two texts on the same topic in order to write or speak about the subject knowledgeably.

NJSLS.RI.4.10 By the end of year, read and comprehend literary nonfiction at grade level text-complexity or above, with scaffolding as needed.

NJSLS.RF.4.4 Read with sufficient accuracy and fluency to support comprehension.

NJSLS.RF.4.4.A Read grade-level text with purpose and understanding.

NJSLS.RF.4.4.C Use context to confirm or self-correct word recognition and understanding, rereading as necessary

Understandings:

Students will understand

- History of the settlement and colonization of New Jersey.
- European colonization in New Jersey impacted the population of the Lenni Lenape.
- Significant historical events that led to the American Revolution and the founding of our nation.
- Different viewpoints relating to historical events associated with the American Revolution.
- How to prepare a counter argument when participating in a debate.

Essential Questions:

- How did the colonists' experiences and historical events define New Jersey's role in the American Revolutionary War?
- What were some of the different viewpoints relating to events associated with the American Revolution?

Students will know/learn...

- Explore the colonization of New Jersey and New Jersey's role in the Revolutionary War.
- Key historical events, documents and individuals that led to the development of our nation.
- The exploration and settlement of North America led to changes in the area that is now known as New Jersey.
- To skim and pay attention to recurring subtopics in a text in an effort to build their background knowledge of a given topic.
- To identify the text structure of a nonfiction text
- How identifying the text structure helps the reader understand important parts, organize their reading and take notes from the text.
- The importance of paying attention to the who, where and when when reading a nonfiction text when organizing new knowledge gained in a text.
- The skill of reading a chunk of text and pausing to talk it over in their mind before recording important parts.

- To synthesize information about a key subtopic while reading an overview text, then reading across several sources about that one subtopic, and thinking about how the new information fits with what they have already read.
- To pay close attention to details that reveal tone and point of view while researching a topic.
- Particular strategies to read primary source documents.
- To pay careful attention to multiple point of view, so that they can try to form a more complete understanding of what happened in the past.
- To study historical evidence to determine their own point of view, and then analyze the evidence to figure out how to make it support their point of view.
- To research both sides of an issue, present their position effectively with reasons and evidence and rebut the position of their opponent.
- Strategies that are helpful when making sense of a complex topic. These strategies include: previewing the text closely, read a section, paraphrase what was read, and notice whether it goes with what they have read before or introduces something new.
- There are specific places in a nonfiction text where an author often reveals important information related to the main idea: introductions, conclusions, and text features.
- When readers approach a new word, they not only learn the definition of it, but also work to understand the word and how it is used at a deeper level

Students will be able to...

- Explain why European colonists settled in New Jersey and understand how colonization impacted the Lenni Lenape people.
- Explain how key events led to the creation of the United States and the state of New Jersey.
- Explain the role that Governor William Livingston played in the development of New Jersey's government.
- Determine the significance of New Jersey's role in the American Revolution.
- Research a point of view relating to a specific event relating to the American Revolution and defend this point of view in a debate.

Learning Plan

Learning Activities:

- Read Unit 1, Lesson 4 in Harcourt New Jersey Social Studies textbook on The Lenape focusing on how colonization impacted the Lenni Lenape people
- View Lenape Lifeways videos
- Read Unit 2, Lessons 1-4 in Harcourt New Jersey Social Studies textbook
- Complete Homework and Practice worksheet pages 5, 6, 10, 11, 12, 13, & 14
- View BrainPop videos: Thirteen Colonies, American Indians, Causes of American Revolution, American Revolution, George Washington, Ben Franklin, French and Indian War, Declaration of Independence, Constitutional Convention, Articles of Confederation, Thomas Jefferson,
- ABC's of the American Revolution Project (Pinterest)
- Read about how William Livingston impacted the government of New Jersey and the United States of America
- Teach lessons in Grade 4, Unit 3 Reading History: The American Revolution from the Units of Study for Teaching Reading by Lucy Calkins.

Interdisciplinary Connections

Technology: 8.1.5.A.2 Format a document using a word processing application to enhance text and include graphics, symbols and/ or pictures. Activity: Use a word processing application to create a timeline of key historic events in New Jersey.

Fine and Performing Arts: 1.4.5.A.2 Make informed aesthetic responses to artworks based on structural arrangement and personal, cultural, and historical points of view. Activity: Analyze and respond to a piece of art related to a key historic event in New Jersey.

ELA W.4.2. Write informative/explanatory texts to examine a topic and convey ideas and information clearly. A. Introduce a topic clearly and group related information in paragraphs and sections; include formatting (e.g., headings), illustrations, and multimedia when useful to aiding comprehension. Understandings:

Students will understand that...

- Active citizens exercise their rights and responsibilities, as outlined in the U.S. Constitution, by participating in the democratic processes.
- The organization of the federal government is based on the framework outlined in the U.S. Constitution.

Essential Questions:

- How do citizens, civic ideals, and government institutions interact to balance the needs of individuals and the common good?
- What is the process for creating a law?

Students will know/learn...

- About the structure and responsibilities of government in their town, state and nation.
- How individuals and groups have responded to violations of Constitutional rights to create social change in our country.
- There are different branches within the United States government, each with its own structure, leaders, and processes, and each designed to address specific issues and concerns.
- In a representative democracy, individuals elect representatives to act on the behalf of the people.
- The examination of individual experiences, historical narratives, and events promotes an understanding of individual and community responses to the violation of fundamental rights.
- The United States is a democratic system that requires active participation of its citizens.

Students will be able to...

- Explain how rules and laws are created by community, state, and national governments to protect the rights of people, help resolve conflicts and promote the common good.
- Distinguish the roles and responsibilities of the three branches of the national government.
- Explain how national and state governments share power in the federal system of government.
- Explain how the United States functions as a representative democracy, and describe the roles of elected representatives and how they interact with citizens at local, state, and national levels.
- Contributions of African-Americans to our society
 - Explain the importance of the role Martin Luther King, Jr. and other civil rights leaders played in the social changes that took place in America.
- Identify social activism taking place today and explain how these movements connect to the civil rights movements and civil rights leaders of the 1960's.
- Explain the steps for creating change at the national level.
- Identify local issues and potential solutions in our school and community.

Learning Plan

Learning Activities:

- Read Harcourt New Jersey Social Studies textbook: Unit 4, Lessons 1-2 (branches of government, state, and local government) and Unit 3, Lesson 4 (civil rights)
- Read Harcourt States and Regions Social Studies textbook: Unit 1, Chapter 2, Lesson 2
- Complete Homework and Practice workbook pages 15
- View BrainPop videos: U.S. Constitution, Bill of Rights, Branches of Government, Supreme Court, Presidential Power, How a Bill Becomes a Law, Democracy
- Flip Book on the Three Branches of Government. Students may refer to The U.S. Constitution and You, How the U.S. Government Works, The Bill of Rights, by Syl Sobel
- Class Trip to the State House in Trenton. Refer to Harcourt New Jersey Social Studies textbook p. 160-161
- Booklet on the U.S. Constitution

- Read Harcourt Social Studies New Jersey textbook Unit 4 Lesson 1 (National Government) and Lesson 2 (State Government)
- U.S. Government interactive websites
- Games to review branches of government
- Amistad: African-American Contributions
 - Read picture books about Americans who have fought for equal rights in America (i.e. Martin Luther King, Jr, Rosa Parks, Ruby Bridges, Susan B. Anthony) and relate their stories to the U.S. Constitution.
 - View the movie, Our Friend Martin, and discuss how people responded to violations of Constitutional rights to create social change in our country.

Interdisciplinary Connections

Technology:8.1.5.B.1 Collaborative to produce a digital story about a significant local event or issue based on first-person interviews. Activity: Collaborate with a partner to produce a digital story about a significant local issue based on first-person interviews.

Visual and Performing Arts 1.4.5.A.3 Demonstrate how art communicates ideas about personal and social values and is inspired by an individual's imagination and frame of reference (e.g., personal, social, political, historical context). Activity: Analyze and discuss a piece of art and the ways it expresses personal and social values inspired by an individual's imagination and frame of reference (e.g., personal, social, political, historical context).

ELA W.4.1. Write opinion pieces on topics or texts, supporting a point of view with reasons and information. A. Introduce a topic or text clearly, state an opinion, and create an organizational structure in which related ideas are grouped to support the writer's purpose. Activity: Flash draft an opinion piece that identifies a local issue and proposes a potential solution in our school and community.

21st Century Skills

Career Ready Practice: CRP8. Utilize critical thinking to make sense of problems and persevere in solving them. Activity: Discuss ways individuals can thoughtfully investigate the root cause of a problem prior to introducing solutions and carefully consider the options to solve the problem.

9.2 Career Awareness, Exploration, and Preparation: 9.2.4.A.2 Identify various life roles and civic and work-related activities in the school, home, and community. Activity: Make a list of various life roles and civic and work-related activities in the school, home, and community that create social and political change.

Assessment Evidence

Formative:

- Review questions for Harcourt States and Regions Social Studies textbook: Unit 1, Chapter 2, Lesson 2
- Review questions for Harcourt New Jersey textbook Unit 4, Lessons 1-2 and Unit 3, Lesson 4
- Teacher created quizzes
- Venn diagram comparing the Articles of Confederation and the U.S. Constitution.
- Students will create a graphic organizer flow chart using Inspiration.

Summative:

Benchmark:

Debate Rubric

Alternative:

Students will create a foldable graphic organizer showing the three branches of government, the duty of each branch, and indicate how each branch checks on and balances the other

- Students will participate in a debate during which they will take on the role of the Constitution writers and discuss the reasons the government should/should not be separated into three branches
- Group action plan to inform school/community members about an important issue
- Draw, label and color a tree diagram showing the three branches of government
- Create an acrostic explaining the duties of the three branches of government with the words E-X-E-C-U-T-I-V-E, L-E-G-I-S-L-A-T-I-V-E, and J-U-D-I-C-I-A-L.
- Write a song explaining the three branches of government and their duties
- Write two paragraphs explaining why the writers of the Constitution felt it was necessary to separate the powers of the government and set up a system of checks and balances
- Write a letter to the editor of a newspaper published around 1787 indicating your concerns that the newly formed federal government might have too much power and why you agree with the writers of the Constitution that separation of powers and a system of checks and balances is needed
- Create a flyer that could have been used to get support for the writers of the Constitution as they tried to meet and discuss how to keep the new government from being just another monarchy like in England
- Write help wanted ads for members of the branches of government

Desired Results

Established Goals:

- 6.1.4.C.3 Explain why incentives vary between and among producers and consumers
- 6.1.4.C.4 Describe how supply and demand influence price and output of products
- 6.1.4.C.5 Explain the role of specialization in the production and exchange of goods and services
- 6.1.4.C.12 Evaluate the impact of ideas, inventions, and other contributions of prominent figures who lived New Jersey.
- 6.1.4.C.13 Examine the qualities of entrepreneurs in a capitalistic society
- 6.1.4.C.15 Describe how the development of different transportation systems impacted the economies of New Jersey and the United States.
- 6.1.4.C.18 Explain how the development of communications systems has led to increased collaboration and the spread of ideas throughout the United States and the world.
- 9.1.4.D.1 Determine various ways to save.
- 9.1.4.D.2 Explain what it means to “invest.”
- 9.1.4.D.3 Distinguish between saving and investing
- 9.1.4.E.1 Determine factors that influence consumer decisions related to money.
- 9.1.4.E.2 Apply comparison shopping skills to purchasing decisions.

Understandings:

Students will understand that...

- New Jersey inventors have developed inventions to improve our lifestyle, access information, provide transportation, and create new products.
- Entrepreneurs must consider supply and demand and the specialization in the production of goods and services when marketing a product.

Essential Question:

- How do inventions impact our society?
- What makes an entrepreneur successful in today's economy?

Students will know/learn:

- Inventions impact our society.
- How entrepreneurs market products in a capitalistic society.
- Economics is a driving force for the occurrence of various events and phenomena in societies.
- Creativity and innovation affect lifestyle, access to information, and the creation of new products and services.
- Economic opportunities in New Jersey, other states, and around the world are related to the availability of resources and technology.

Students will be able to...

- Differentiate between a discovery and invention.
- Identify that an invention starts with an idea and explain that a successful invention should make things easier and more efficient.
- Research the life and accomplishments of a New Jersey Inventor and present findings to peers.
- Differentiate between inventors and entrepreneurship.
- Understand the concept of supply and demand and how it affects price and output of products.
- Explain the relationship between consumers and producers.
- Explain how specialization can impact goods and services.

Learning Plan

Learning activities:

- Read Harcourt States and Regions textbook: Unit 1, Chapter 2, Lesson 3 (United States Economy)
- Read Harcourt New Jersey textbook: Unit 2, Lesson 5 (Inventions) and Unit 3 Lesson 2 p. 112-114, 117 (New Jersey Inventors), Unit 4, Lesson 3 (New Jersey's Economy)
- Define invention and discovery and have student sort items (as named on individual index cards) as either an invention or discovery
- Read about American inventors. Focus on inventors who impacted transportation and communication
- Read about New Jersey inventors on New Jersey Inventors Hall of Fame website. Reflect on the following questions: How have these inventions impacted our lives? Society? What would our lives be like without these inventions? What impact did these inventions have on our economy? How did these inventors impact communication? How did these inventors impact transportation?
- Read about New Jersey inventors by referencing interactive New Jersey Inventors Map
- Research a New Jersey inventor. Some notable New Jersey inventors are: Charles Brooks, Bessie Blount, Earle Dickson, Alfred Fielding, Marc Chavannes, Lillian Gilbert, John Philip Holland, Les Paul, Alice Parker, Roy Plunkett, Abram Spinel, John Stevens, Dr. John Thompson-Dorrance and Norman Joseph Woodland. Reference the above link for information on each inventor or you can reference information on Amazing New Jersey Inventors (Reference list under TEACHER TOOLBOX heading on left side of screen)
- Play interactive games to reinforce knowledge about New Jersey inventors
- Develop a presentation to share information about this inventor and his or her creation(s). This information can be in the form of a pamphlet, poster, slideshow presentation, essay or any other presentation format
- Read about inventions that happened by mistake.
- Interview parents to learn about what inventions were developed in their lifetime. During the interview, students complete a chart explaining why the invention was made and how life was different after the invention
- Read Timeline History of Bicycles. Create a timeline of the changes that were made in the first bicycle to the one they are riding today
- Create a Venn Diagram to compare bicycles in the past to present day bicycles
- Brainpop videos: Benjamin Franklin, Thomas Edison, George Washington Carver, Wright Brothers and Leonardo Da Vinci, Industrial Revolution, Supply and Demand
- What are Goods and Services, by Carolyn Andrews. Read the following chapters: Introduction to economics, Where do goods come from?, Services/Public or Private, Specialization
- What is Supply and Demand: Supply and Demand (p. 4-7, 10-15)
- Discovery Education website for short videos about inventors and economy

6.1.4.D.20 Describe why it is important to understand the perspectives of other cultures in an interconnected world.

6.3.4.D.1 Identify actions that are unfair or discriminatory, such as bullying, and propose solutions to address such actions.

Understandings:

Students will understand that...

- Active citizens respect different viewpoints and take actions that result in a more just and equitable society.
- Immigrants faced a multitude of challenges when arriving from Europe from 1880-1920.
- Voluntary and involuntary immigration impacted America's growth as a nation, historically, and today.

Essential Questions:

- How can the study of multiple perspectives, beliefs systems and cultures provide a context for understanding and challenging public actions and decisions in a diverse and interdependent world?
- Why do people decide to immigrate to new countries?
- What challenges do immigrants face, and how do they overcome them?
- How do the vestiges of slavery impact Americans today?

Students will know/learn...

- About the immigrant experience including push/pull factors, cultural contributions and the process of becoming an American citizen.
- How various cultures and belief systems helped to create this country.
- The positive and negative behaviors associated with obedience, conformity, and apathy.
- The positive behavior associated with acts of courage, integrity, and empathy.
- People with different backgrounds, but with a common cause, can affect great change.
- The importance of accepting people's individual perspectives based on various cultures.
- Immigrants can become and obtain the rights of American citizens.
- In an interconnected world, increased collaboration is needed by individuals, groups, and nations to solve global problems.
- In an interconnected world, it is important to consider different cultural perspectives before proposing solutions to local, state, national, and global challenges.
- Key historical events, documents and individuals led to the development of our nation.
- Immigrants come to New Jersey and the United States for various reasons and have a major impact on the state and the nation.
- Personal, family and community history is a source of information for individuals about the people and places around them.
- Cultures struggle to maintain traditions in a changing society.
- Prejudice and discrimination can be obstacles to understanding other cultures.
- The cultures with which an individual or group identifies change and evolve in response to interactions with other groups and/or in response to needs or concerns.
- People view and interpret events differently because of the times in which they live, the experiences they have had, the perspectives held by their cultures, and their individual points of view.

Students will be able to...

- Explain why people immigrate to the United States.
- Describe the process of becoming a citizen.
- Appreciate cultural differences and beliefs in our society.
- Slavery in America: Explain the impact of transAtlantic slavery on New Jersey, the nation, and individuals.
- Slavery in America: Identify vestiges of slavery found in current times.
- Identify reasons why individuals immigrate today.
- Identify challenges immigrants today face.

United States Regions
(Geography, People, and the Environment)
May/ June
6 weeks

Desired Results

Established Goals:

- 6.1.4.B.1 Compare and contrast information that can be found on different types of maps and determine how the information may be useful.
- 6.1.4.B.2 Use physical and political maps to explain how the location and spatial relationship of places in New Jersey, the United States, and other areas, worldwide, have contributed to cultural diffusion and economic interdependence.
- 6.1.4.B.4 Describe how landforms, climate and weather, and availability of resources have impacted where and how people live and work in different regions of New Jersey and the United States.
- 6.1.4.B.7 Explain why some locations in New Jersey and the United States are more suited for settlement than others.
- 6.1.4.B.10 Identify major cities in New Jersey, as well as in the United States, and the world, and explain how geographic and demographic tools (e.g. maps, globes, data visualization) can be used to understand cultural differences.
- 6.3.4.B.1 Plan and participate in an advocacy project to inform others about environmental issues at the local or state level and propose possible solutions.

Understandings:

Students will understand that...

- Landforms, climate, and availability of resources impact population, cultural differences, and how people live in different regions of the United States.
- Different types of maps offer a variety of information about locations.

Essential Questions:

- How does the diversity of the landscape and climate in the United States affect its population and its cultural differences?

Students will know/learn...

- How landforms, climate, and natural resources impact the population of a given area.
- How different types of maps provide a variety of information about different regions.
- Spatial thinking and geographic tools can be used to describe and analyze the spatial patterns and organization of people, places and environment on Earth.
- Places can be jointly characterized by their physical and human properties.
- Regions form and change as a result of unique physical/ecological conditions, economics, and cultures.
- Patterns of settlement across Earth's surface differ markedly from region to region, place to place, and time to time.
- Urban areas, worldwide, share common physical characteristics, but may also have cultural differences.

Students will be able to...

- Read and interpret different kinds of maps.
- Identify natural resources of a region and understand how the abundance of these resources impact a region's economy.
- Understand how a region's physical characteristics can impact population and economy.
- Understand how the location of a region can impact cultural diversity.
- Identify an environmental issue connected to climate or natural resources and propose possible solutions.

Learning Plan

Learning Activities:

- Read books in A True Book Regions series (Scholastic). Focus on Chapter 1 (landforms), Chapter 2 (people of the regions, population/culture) and Chapter 4 (resources and economy).
- Create Venn Diagrams comparing natural resources and landforms.
- Create a chart to outline a region's physical characteristics, natural resources and businesses in industry associated with this characteristic. (For example: Mountains-mining, oceans-tourism, fishing)
- Discuss how climate in a given region impacts population.
- Create and present a Google Slide Show highlighting the region's physical characteristics, resources, industries and climate.
- Reference Harcourt Social Studies States and Regions Book: Unit 2: Northeast, Unit 3: Southeast, Unit 4: Midwest, Unit 5: Southwest, Unit 6: West

Interdisciplinary Connections

Technology: 8.1.5.F.1 Apply digital tools to collect, organize, and analyze data that support a scientific finding. Activity: Use digital tools to collect, organize, and analyze data to show how landforms, climate, and natural resources impact the population of a given area.

Science: 3-ESS3-1 Obtain and combine information to describe that energy and fuels are derived from natural resources and their uses affect the environment. Activity: Discuss ways in which human activity impacts the environment in specific regions of the United States.

ELA: W.4.1. Write opinion pieces on topics or texts, supporting a point of view with reasons and information. A. Introduce a topic or text clearly, state an opinion, and create an organizational structure in which related ideas are grouped to support the writer's purpose. Activity: Flash draft an opinion piece that identifies an environmental issue connected to climate or natural resources and proposes possible solutions.

21st Century Skills

Career Ready Practice: CRP8. Utilize critical thinking to make sense of problems and persevere in solving them. Activity: Discuss ways individuals can thoughtfully investigate the root cause of a problem and carefully consider the options to solve the problem.

9.2 Career Awareness, Exploration, and Preparation: 9.2.4.A.2 Identify various life roles and civic and work-related activities in the school, home, and community. Activity: Discuss various life roles and civic and work-related activities that involve geography, people, and the environment.

Assessment Evidence

Formative:

- Answer the review questions at the end of each lesson in Harcourt Social Studies States and Regions Book
- Answer questions relating to students' Regions Google Slide Shows

Summative:

- Given a specific region, research the top five resources of each state and create a land use and products map. (See p. 77 in Harcourt States and Regions book for an example of map)
- Plan and participate in an advocacy project to inform others about environmental
