September 4, 2018	The following outlines various and recommended aspects that Thomas C. Murray, LLC will engage in with Readington Township School District on September 4, 2018. Welcome Back Opening Keynote Learning Transformed When we analyze the US education system and classrooms across our nation, we see dramatic differences and gaps in innovation. Side-by-side images of classrooms from 1918 and 2018 yield eerie similarities in many schools today, even with the 100-year difference. Some schools are creating dynamic cultures of innovation, while others still resemble those from the industrial area. Why this dichotomy? How are today's innovators different and what qualities make their schools stand out? Opening day speaker, Thomas C. Murray will share key factors in how districts are creating cultures of innovation that empower both teachers and students. Tom will also share a variety of districts and leaders who have gained national attention for creating unique learning experiences for students, who are working to overcome obstacles against all odds, and how all districts can create cultures of innovation inside their schools.	$5,500 (Reflects $1,500 discount.)
